THE GAZETTE.

TUESDAY JULY 26.

If John Sherman wants the endorsement of Ohio, let the Toledo convention give it to him. It will please the senator very much, and will not at all interfere with the Blaine boom. Besides that, if Senator Sherman wants the endorsement of his Ohio friends for the presidency or anything, he is entitled to it.

General Simon Bolivar Buckner, democratic candidate for governor of Kentucky, set out to stump the state jointly with Mr. Bradley, his republican rival, but soon got mad and quit. The fact is General Buckner couldn't name a single reason why the democrats ticket should be elected in Kentucky, and that is enough to make any democrat mad

There is a good deal of Grover Cleveland that is not yet known to the public. New York Graphic.

Will you be kind enough to mention the precise section—New York World.

When two democratic papers begin discussing a question of that kind, they soon get in the bogs. The man that first discovered Mr. Cleveland has been unable to unlue the precise section the New York World inquires after.

Boston Advertiser: In various sections the suggestion of Robert Lincoln's name as a presidential candidate next year is favorably received. In New York, where the pivotal fight is to be made, so excellent a paper as the Albany Journal says: 'In New York state, where a plan of upright character and freedom from the arts of the demagogue commands the respect of all parties, Robert T. Lincoln would be a tower of strength to the republican party."

The president has finally made up his mind to go to St. Louis. This is a good thing for the president and will be quite a profitable thing for that town. The president needs rest, and in place in the country can he find it in greater quantity than in the quiet and rural-like St. Louis. And then, the presence of a real live president, (we speak now in a physical and not in a political sense) will do much to wake up for a day or two the people of that place.

The principal feature of the "Lincoln Life" in the August Century, will be the account of Lincoln's famous Cooper Institute speech, which was an important though unintentional step in the direction of the presidency. But this instalment will also include accounts of Lincoln's Ohio speeches, John Brown's raid and Lincoln's view of it, and the Charleston Democratic Convention of 1860. The authors of the Life use the letters MS. to show not only that they have quoted from original manuscript authority, but also that the MS. quoted has not, to their knowledge, heretofore appeared in print. The foot-notes of this, as of other instalments, are dotted by this MS. sign, thus showing at a glance the original character of the work.

The astronomers are busily preparing to observe a total eclipse of the sun, which is to take place on the 19th of August next. It will be total only along a belt which traverses the earth through Germany, Russia, China and Japan. It will not be visible here. The United States will send abroad two scientific corps to observe it. One will go to Japan under the joint auspices of the navy department, which loans the instruments, and the trustees of the Bache fund of the National Academy of Science, which appropriated $2,000 for the expenses of the expedition. Prof. David T. Todd, of Amherst, is in charge of the expedition. The primary objects of the expedition are to secure photographs of the partially eclipsed sun, especially near the moments of its critical phase, and of the solar corona, while the sun is entirely covered. Another expedition will go to Russia under the direction of Charles A. Young, astronomer of Princeton, N. J., who sailed from New York, accompanied by Profs. Brackett and McNeill, also of Princeton, and a number of ladies. This party will cooperate with Dr. Otto Von Struve, the celebrated director of the imperial observatory at Pultowa, and will seek a position probably in the neighborhood of Moscow.

Yesterday we gave some interesting facts about foreign steel used in building the New Boston Court-House. The duty in that case were just 100 per cent. That is, the Federal Government took from the importer just the same amount of money that the manufacturer did. The cost to the consumer was nearly two and a half times the cost at the factory. The price of the same products of American manufacture was still higher. Therefore, the American manufacturer is able to sell his whole product for more money than it costs to import in this case. If it had not been so, he would have bid lower and filled this order. Does anybody suppose that the American manufacturer cannot afford to sell beams and girders for 2½ cents a pound when the Belgian manufacturer is glad to get 1½ cents a pound?

That is pretty good for a one-sided story from the Boston Herald, a free trade paper. If the American manufacturers of steel could have sold their product lower than their bid and made a reasonable profit, does not the Herald suppose they would have done so? And where goes a greater part of the cost of making American steel beams or girders or railway iron? In the hands of the manufacturers? No. If the Boston Herald will take the comparative tables of wages paid in England and in this country, it will learn a thing or two which will afford it some profit. If the American workmen received no higher wages in this country than mill and furnace workers do in England, then the tariff would be for the benefit of the manufacturers and not for the workmen. But that is not the case. The very moment you attempt to so reduce wages in this country as to enable anyone to compete with England in the manufacture of steel rails, you make the condition of the workingman just as hopeless as it is in England. The workingmen here receive a very large part of the benefit of a tariff on steel and iron, and not the manufacturers.

THE FATAL FIRE DAMP.

THREE MINERS MANGLED BY AN EXPLOSION.

The New England Floods—Terrible Storm in the Bay of Bengal—Casualties.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 26.—Another terrible disaster occurred at 7 o'clock Monday in the fatal No. 1 slope of the Susquehanna Coal company at Nanticoke, whereby three lives were probably sacrificed. Anthony Broski, George Phillips, and Edward Lorber were engaged in a chamber driving a heading. They used safety lamps. Broski inserted a lot of giant powder into a hole he had drilled and fired it. The blast exploded an accumulation of fire damp that knocked the three men against the ragged side of the chamber, mutilating their bodies in a horrible manner and burning them frightfully. Broski was taken to his home, where he died an hour afterward, surrounded by his wife and three children. Phillips and Lorber were also conveyed to their homes, and their injuries are pronounced fatal. Four of Lorber's brothers were killedin the great disaster in the same mine in December, 1885, and are numbered among the twenty-six whose bones still lie entombed in the fatal chamber that never has been reached.

Damage by Floods.

DOVER, N. H., July 26.—All the rivers are higher now than ever known before in the summer. Freshets in Lamprey river, Newmarket, have carried away a large part of the old dam of Newmarket cotton mills; also the foundation of No. 2 Picker mills. An engine and derrick employed sometimes in constructing a new dam were swept away. The loss cannot be estimated at present.

A dispatch from South Berwick says that five members of a fire-engine company there, and a horse hauling a hand-tub, while en route to a fire, were prostrated by lightning, the men being insensible for some time. One of them had his feet burned.

GREENFIELD, Mass., July 26.—The freshet has just swept away the iron railroad bridge at Erving, which will cause still further delay to traffic.

Terrible Storm in the Indian Ocean.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Hong Kong advices state that by the loss of the steamer Sir John A. Lawrence in the Bay of Bengal, 800 lives were lost, mainly pilgrims of the best families in Bengal. From the 21st to the 26th of May a cyclone raged in the Bay of Bengal with great loss of life. The storm was the severest experienced in that quarter since 1866. The passengers on board the John Lawrence numbered 750, the officers and crew numbered fifty. The passengers were mainly women going on a pilgrimage to the famous temple of Jagganath, at Puri. There is scarcely a native family in Calcutta which does not bemoan the loss of a relative by the disaster.

An Open Switch in Wisconsin.

HUDSON, Wis., July 25.—The south-bound passenger train on the North Wisconsin division of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway ran into an open switch at Cumberland Station. Engineer John Donahue of Hudson, and Fireman Webster of Altoona, were killed, and Baggage Master Murphy injured. The engine, express and baggage cars were wrecked. A freight train had been side-tracked to await the passage of the passenger train and the freight hands failed to close the switch.

Earthquake in South America.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Globo of Guayaquil, Ecuador, of June 30 says: "At 6:30 yesterday morning we experienced the severest earthquake shock since 1859. A great deal of damage was done; lamps, flower-stands, ornaments, and looking-glasses were smashed to pieces. A wooden saint fell from a niche in San Francisco church and was smashed to pieces. A number of huts fell down and all the walls of the houses were cracked, while fissures have opened in the streets."

Forty-Eight Horses Roasted.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A fire broke out at 5 o'clock in the buildings 43 to 49 West Thirteenth street, in which 100 horses were stabled, and forty-eight of them were burned to death. The horses burned were valued at $14,000. The stock, harness, wagons, and machinery destroyed were valued at about $20,000. The damage to the building is placed at $10,000.

A Windmill Factory Burned.

GALESBURG, Ill., July 26.—At 8 o'clock last night a fire started in the boiler-room of May Bros' windmill factory, destroying the structure completely. The loss being about $25,000; insurance, $10,000. Some small adjacent buildings were also destroyed, the loss on which is about $5,000. The fire department by doing good work prevented a loss of perhaps $75,000.

A Cheese Train Wrecked.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., July 26.—A washout occurred on the Erie road, two miles west of Cochecton, at 7:30 o'clock last night, carrying away the east track just as a train loaded with cheese was passing. The engine and several cars passed safely, but twenty-one cars of cheese went down the bank and were totally wrecked. Travel was delayed for about ten hours.

Burning Naptha in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 26.—A dispatch from Nizhee-Novgorod states that a large naptha spring storehouse containing 1,000,000 poods of naptha at Balachina, twenty miles northwest of Nizhnee-Novgorod, is on fire, and that the flames have spread to the structures inclosing other springs. A northerly wind is blowing and the fire is extending.

A Powder Mill Blown Up.

THOMASTON, Me., July 26.—The Warren powder-mill blew up Monday. They had started up the mill, in which were thirty kegs of powder, three minutes previous to the explosion. George Shepherd, a workman, aged 80, was killed, being literally torn to pieces. The same mill was blown up six months ago.

Victims of Reckless Shooting.

CLINTON, Iowa, July 26.—Wallace Phillips, the youth who was shot in the top of the head at Sells Bros.' circus, died this morning. Mrs. Lambertson, another victim, is getting better. George Harrington, the third person shot, is doing well, though his life still hangs by a thread.

Explosion of Twenty-two Boilers.

LONDON, July 26.—Twenty-two boilers belonging to a blast furnace and iron works at Friedenshutte, in Silesia, exploded yesterday, killing two men and wounding twenty others. After the explosion a fire broke out which consumed six houses and a shop.

The Thistle on the Way.

GLASGOW, July 25.—The yacht Thistle sailed for New York yesterday. A gale was blowing when she took her departure, and she proceeded under storm-sails. Her crew number twenty-one men. Her owner and her designer will sail from Liverpool for New York on the steamer City of Rome during the latter part of August.

ORANGEMEN EXCITED.

Disgust that All of Ireland Has Been "Proclaimed."

LONDON, July 26.—In the House of Commons last evening T. M. Healy said he wished to obtain from the Government information showing why the whole of Ireland had been proclaimed in the face of the fact that the Government had assured the House that in some parts of Ireland the laws were observed as well as in any part of England. Mr. Balfour reasserted that some parts of Ireland were tranquil. The Government, he said, had not applied the whole of the crimes act in Ireland generally, but had applied only the subsections dealing with violations of law and order. In whatever counties had been proclaimed the Government believed crime and intimidation existed. The house then went into committee on the land bill. To the first clause, extending to leaseholders the benefits of the act of 1881, Mr. Parnell offered an amendment. The bill as it stands gives equal option to tenant and landlord to apply to the court to fix rent. Mr. Parnell urged that the tenant also should have the right to apply to the court for this purpose, and that the period covered by the application should be limited to three years. Mr. Balfour accepted the amendment, providing that the limit be two years instead of three, to which Mr. Parnell agreed.

The Orangemen are astounded at the proclamation of the whole of Ireland, with the exception of the county of Antrim, and are making all sorts of indignant protests against the Government's action. Had it been understood at the outset that Ulster would be treated the same as the rest of Ireland in the enforcement of the act it is doubtful whether any of the Tory Orange members, excepting the fiery Major Saunderson, would have voted for the measure. Now that the Government has been compelled to make a show of impartiality it may be expected that it will take active measures to enforce the law and display its sincerity, but it will probably be found that the activity will be confined to the south of Ireland.

CANADIAN FISHERIES.

Report of the Minister of Marine—Americans Captured.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26.—E. E. Foster, Canadian Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has returned from the lower provinces, where he spent a month on board the cruiser Acadia, engaged in the fisheries protection service. Speaking of his thousand-mile cruise he said: "The American fishermen this season have carefully preserved the regulations prohibiting them from entering the three-mile limit, but their catches have been very light. At this rate they can't profitably continue operations much longer. The failure of fisheries on their own coast this season has not improved matters and they are now dependent on us. The American fleet in Canadian waters just now exceeds 120 sail vessels. A noticeable thing is the largely increased number of mackerel seiners fitted out this season by Canadians, who in all cases are enjoying prosperity. The fishing around Prince Edward Island being largely inshore they have great advantage over the Americans. The lobster fishing on the north shore of New Brunswick and in parts of Prince Edward Island has proved a failure, and many fishermen have pulled up their traps and are going into the mackerel business. The lobster catching business has been overdone and stringent measures will have to be adopted to prevent the entire destruction of this crustacean."

American Fishing Boats Seized.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 26.—A telegram received from United States Consul Carleton at Souris, Prince Edward's Island, states that the seines and boats with all the crew of the schooners Col. J. H. Prince and Argonaut were seized Sunday off East Point, Prince Edward's Island, by the Dominion cutter Critic. It appears that the vessels' boats were close inshore when the cutter appeared, with seines set in the water. The vessels cleared out and escaped the cutter, but before the boats could escape they were seized. There was only one man left on the vessels, and it is thought they will be seized before getting home, as they will have to put in for assistance.

FATAL BATHS.

Three Drowning Accidents in Which Six Perish.

GALENA, Ill., July 26.—John H. Thomas, Clinton Thomas, and Walter Hobbie, all of Hazel Green, Wis., members of a party of campers who passed through here Monday for Crooked slough, near the mouth of the Galena river, were drowned at 4 p. m. at Smith's ferry on the Mississippi while bathing. The three unfortunates were drawn into an eddy. Search is being made for the bodies.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 26.—Oliver and Elmer Brumbaugh, cousins, aged 20 and 22, sons of wealthy farmers living near Congress lake, were drowned while bathing in the lake. Neither could swim, and they jumped from a boat into ten feet of water. A companion tried, but failed, to save them.

CLINTON, Iowa, July 26.—A boy named James Harrison was drowned in the Mississippi river here yesterday while bathing. He is the sixth victim this summer.

An Extension to the Wheeling.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The directors of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railway have adopted an address to the stockholders proposing an extension of the road from Bowerstown, the present terminus, to Wheeling, making a through line from Toledo to Wheeling. The extension will be about twenty miles in length. The line has been looked upon as an exclusively "coal run," but the directors anticipate that the passenger and general freight traffic will assume the relative importance it should have, if their project is carried out. This will be only a fulfillment of the original plan, which was not carried out before on account of difficulties in construction.

Iron Manufacturers Embarrassed.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—William J. Hammond & Sons, the iron manufacturers whose mill was destroyed by fire about ten days ago, are financially embarrassed. They have called a meeting of their creditors for next Thursday, when a statement of their condition will be presented. The embarrassment is supposed to have been caused by fire, their loss being nearly $200,000, while the insurance was less than half that amount.

The Grain in Sight.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The visible supply of grain as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange is as follows: Wheat, 32,021,051 bushels—increase, 524,153 bushels; corn, 7,879,230 bushels—decrease, 749,050 bushels; oats, 1,971,667 bushels—decrease, 108,408 bushels; rye, 236,392 bushels—increase, 22,700 bushels; barley, 128,230 bushels—decrease, 1,947 bushels.

The Ball Score.

In Monday's base ball games the following scores were made: Detroit 15, Chicago 8; Pittsburg 7, Indianapolis 6; Washington 3, Philadelphia 2; New York 11, Boston 4; Athletes 5, Cincinnati 2; Brooklyn 4, St. Louis 2; Baltimore 2, Cleveland 4; Metropolitan 5, Louisville 3.

A Montana paper tells of a dying woman who disfigured the face of her husband with a hatchet lest he should marry again. It is a good story, and the hatchet employed in it is evidence of its sacred truth.

"What's the matter with your eyes, Joe?" "Been sifting ashes, Bill. The wind's against me, no matter how I turn." "I never get ashes in my eyes, Joe." "How do you avoid it?" "I let my wife sift them."

"Why don't you wear your night-dress for a bathing suit?" inquired a mean old man of his lovely young wife. "Because, my dear," she said archly, "it is altogether too high in the neck and comes down too far."

"I love you," he protested, "better than my life. I would die for you if necessary." "O, nonsense!" replied the practical girl. "Swear to me that you will get up and make the fires, and I'll consider your proposition."

A law was recently passed by the Ohio Legislature declaring that the husband was the head of the family. Until that act is signed by all the women it will be inoperative, and even then it is likely to prove a dead letter.

Miss Trillion—The same old story, Charley. I'm afraid to have you out of my sight. Charley (sympathetically)—Just as I feel about it. Let's get married at once. I need some one to give me a balance. [No doubt he does—at her banker's.]

Mrs. Young (to friend seeking $ for an aid society)—I can't afford to give you much, for I have a large family to support. Friend—Why, you are just married. Mrs. Young—Yes, but our servant has a mother and eight children depending on her for food.

The reports of burglars had made the mistress of the house cautious, and she reminded her maid-of-all-work that the door at the foot of the back stairs must be bolted at night, and told her the reason why. "They wouldn't come upstairs, would they?" asked Abigail. "They might," said the mistress. "And go into the rooms where folks are sleeping?" "Yes, indeed." "Well, if they ain't got cheek!"

THE MISSING BOODLER.

W. J. McGARIGLE REPORTED SEEN AT MILWAUKEE.

An Acquaintance Claims to Have Recognized Him—Sensational Testimony in the Omnibus Case.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The wildest rumors are abroad in connection with McGarigle's flight, but they are of too supposititious a nature to warrant any credence. Now he is in Wisconsin, again he has turned up at Mackinaw straits, or some zealous deputy has unearthed him in the city. But these rumors are short-lived. Sheriff Matson has his emissaries scouting the vicinity, and if the fugitive eludes their vigilance he will be clever. Those who are currently supposed to be best informed say that he is in the city lurking in the friendly concealment of some house, and that he is too sharp to go abroad.

The Sheriff wears a haggard, despondent expression, and seems much dejected by reason of the unfortunate occurrence. Every moment reports are coming in from the deputies, but the nature of these reports have the same refrain: "Not yet." Chief Deputy Gleason inclines to the opinion that he has taken the water route, and the authorities at the central station coincide.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 26.—No less than two people, so far as heard from, have asserted that they saw W. J. McGarigle in Milwaukee Sunday morning. One, on second thought, is inclined to hedge rather than be made conspicuous in the matter, and does not repeat his assertions with the assurance he did immediately after the occurrence. This gentleman is Mr. Albert Chapman, who resides at No. 424 Cass street. Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Mr. Chapman started for Chicago to visit friends. At the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul depot, in Milwaukee, he saw a man whom he took to be W. J. McGarigle. Mr. Chapman worked in the County Treasurer's office a few years ago in Chicago, and was well acquainted with the escaped boodler. He stopped when he saw him, and was about to speak, but McGarigle, or his wonderful double, gave him the cut. Mr. Chapman started on, but the conviction that it was his old friend caused him to stop again and debate whether he would follow and insist on recognition, and, while hesitating, the suspect disappeared amid the crowd.

At this time Mr. Chapman was not aware of McGarigle's escape, a fact which he only learned after being in Chicago some time. There was a Milwaukee train which left Chicago at 10:30 o'clock. This would pass Pacific Junction, the nearest station to McGarigle's house at Lake View, about 11 o'clock, which, allowing that he got away at 10 or 10:15 o'clock, would permit him to catch this train with ease. This would take him to Milwaukee at 1:30 a. m.

The second man who saw McGarigle, or his mysterious double, was Timothy J. Hadly, a boot and shoe drummer from Lynn, Mass., who has gone to St. Paul and Minneapolis. He was at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul station Sunday morning. He did not know McGarigle, but heard two men talking about him in a manner that attracted his attention. They were evidently laboring men of the semi-tough character out for a Sunday's frolic. One pointing out a gentleman with a small brown leather grip, said: "There goes the Jim Dandy of 'em all. That's Billy McGarigle, the boss boodler."

The other said, "Aw, come off."

The first speaker continued: "Yes, it is. I know 'em. I worked for him in Chicago, and I know his old man here and his brother and the alderman," meaning McGarigle's brother-in-law.

Mr. Hadly's curiosity was excited and he followed him down to the platform. "When he perceived I was watching him he gave me a quick glance over his shoulder and started off. Then he turned around and walked toward me, eyeing me in a very embarrassing manner. I felt sorry for him, and thought he was out on bail, or something of that sort, and so, not to annoy him, I turned away. I don't look like a detective and I think McGarigle sized me up for some Chicago business man who wasn't sure of his identity. I was too much annoyed by the incident to see what train he took, if any. This happened about 9 o'clock, I think.

Testimony in the Omnibus Case.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Monday's session of the boodler trial was interesting principally for the testimony of Henry C. Clybourn, a dealer in gravel. He said that in 1886 he had furnished material for the "stone road" from Milwaukee avenue to the insane asylum. In a halting, hesitating way, showing with what reluctance he was testifying, Clybourn said that in 1886 he was furnishing gravel to William Kolze of Leyden, for the roads in that town. Kolze said to him one day that he would like to see him get the contract for the stone road.

HENRY C. CLYBOURN.

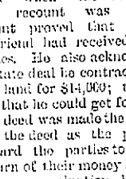
"The matter ran along for some time," said the witness, "until in February Kolze said: 'I think I can get you that contract. How much would you want?' I told him I would furnish the material for $15 a car. He said another man had bid at $10. I offered to furnish the material at $14 per car, but Kolze said I would have to add $5 to that for a commission. I told him I didn't do business that way. Kolze said that was the only way I could do business with the county. I put on the $5, making the price $19, and I was to furnish 1,000 car loads. On the 8th of February Kolze came to me and said I would have to pay up that extra $5 on each car right away. On the afternoon of that day I gave him $2,500 in five packages of $500 each. There were two witnesses—my brother, Frank T. Clybourn, and Michael Moran of Leyden. The second $2,500 was paid Feb. 9, in county orders."

Continuing, Clybourn said that when he had put about 725 car-loads of gravel on the road Kolze and Varnell told him they had enough of material. He told them that he had sold 1,000 car-loads to the county, and proposed to deliver that amount. He went on putting in the gravel until Varnell came and told him again that the work must stop. The road would not stand any more, he said. Varnell then told him to make out his bill for 1,089 cars, and he would see that it went through the board all right. He made out the bill as directed and Varnell took it and had it passed by the board. The total amount of money he received was $20,601, and the amount of gravel furnished was 820 cars.

Clybourn said he left the bill on Varnell's desk, with his signature, but no affidavit attached to it. Varnell had told him not to bother himself about the affidavit, he would attend to that. While the job was in progress he gave Varnell $1,800, to be divided, as the latter said, "among the boys." He also gave Kolze $400 for Commissioner F. A. McDonald.

In reply to cross-questions Mr. Clybourn said: "I never swore to the affidavit on the gravel bill before David McCarthy, a deputy clerk in the county board rooms. My brother, Frank T. Clybourn, who is my partner, gave the $1,800 commissions to our hired man, Harris, and he took it to Varnell and McGarigle at the hospital. I never put in a bid to the county board for the gravel contract, and don't think my brother did. It was all done through Kolze. He told us the contract had been given us."

John Harris, a young man employed by the Clybourn Brothers to solicit orders for sand and gravel, was called to corroborate H. C. Clybourn's testimony in regard to the $1,800 he claimed to have given to Varnell to divide with the gang. In May, 1886, Harris said Frank Clybourn gave him a package containing $1,800 and told him to take it to the county hospital and give it to Varnell and McGarigle, whom he would find there. He found the two men as Clybourn said he would and handed the money to Varnell. The latter passed it to McGarigle, who said: "That is all right." Harris also testified to having acted as a messenger between his employers and Kolze, carrying $600 to the latter.



JOHN B. HARRIS.

THE INDIANA CASES.

Cross-Examining the Defendants—W. H. English Testifies.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 26.—The trial of the conspiracy cases was resumed in the Federal court Monday, and seventy-three witnesses were examined, nearly all of them upon the reputation of the defendants for integrity and the like. Of the defendants, Mettler, Reardon, Budd, Sullivan, and Metcalf testified in their own behalf and denied all the statements made by Perkins in his sensational testimony. On cross-examination Mettler was greatly confused, swearing that his tally papers had not been out of his possession, and also that he did not change them. He was asked how the changes were made if he did not let them go out of his hands, and he replied that he did not know any changes were made until the Federal grand jury began its investigation. Beck admitted on cross-examination that he had kept the tallies in a building and loan association election recently, and when the result was announced a recount was demanded. The recount proved that the opponent of Beck's friend had received a majority of the votes. He also acknowledged that in a real estate deal he contracted to purchase a piece of land for $14,000; that he told other parties that he could get for it $21,000, and when the deed was made the latter figures were put in the deed as the purchase price. Afterward the parties to the trade demanded a return of their money and it was made. This cross-examination hurt Beck considerably, as the facts were not generally known. The witnesses summoned on the question of character consisted of judges of courts, prominent business men of both parties, physicians and lawyers. William H. English was one of the number. He was asked about Sim Coy's character, and said: "From one standpoint it is good. It is good in the estimation of all but those who are prejudiced against him because he is a liquor seller and an active Democrat. I do not say he is a moral man, but I believe he is a true man to his friends and to his party. I think he is an honest man, and I believe him to be an honest man." Mr. English's answer created something of a sensation.

Defrauder Harvey In a New Role.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 26.—There is every reason to believe that Oscar J. Harvey's frauds on the Government have extended in other directions than has yet appeared. From developments which have come to light here it is probable that he has done something in the fraudulent pension line. Acting as attorney he not long ago procured a pension for Mrs. Elizabeth Dronson of Wyoming, a small village near here. The back pension obtained amounted to $1,722.57, and a few days ago a draft for this amount was made out by the Pension Agent of Philadelphia, and forwarded, under Harvey's directions, to an address in this city, and was delivered to Miss E. Harvey, a sister of Oscar, living at 47 Union street, to which place the letter was addressed. Yesterday Col. Birdseye of Scranton, received a telegram from Pension Commissioner Black, instructing him to stop the payment of the draft. He came to this city and succeeded in tracing the draft, which had passed out of Miss Harvey's hands, and in getting possession of it before it was presented for payment. He did not know on what information Gen. Black had issued the order to stop the payment, but supposed that some evidence of fraud had been discovered. The matter will be thoroughly investigated, and it is not unlikely that disclosures will be made showing Harvey to be a bigger fraud than at first supposed.

Saved from Drowning by a Pony.

DETROIT, Mich., July 26.—At Higgins Lake, Roscommon county, yesterday, Mrs. Charles H. Petit and her little daughter, aged three years, were boating, when the little one, while capering about, fell into the water. The mother in her anxiety and fright then upset the boat, and as they were alone the chances were excellent for a double funeral, had not their horse, an ex-Digent French pony, which had been turned loose to graze on the shore of the lake, come to their rescue. Alarmed by the screams of the mother and by the commotion which the two made in the water, the animal swam out to them, and when they had taken a secure hold on its mane struggled back to shore, a tired but heroic pony. The animal is inclined to be balky, and he never would pull anything but a light load, but now he is a prime favorite.

A Second Noah Ready.

BOSTON, Mass., July 26.—There is a strange old man living on Bear Lake in New Brunswick, three days' journey through the woods from Vanceborough, Me., who claims to have been told by a spirit that there is shortly to be a second great flood, in which he is to play the part of Noah. He has prepared himself with an ark, which is moored to his little log cabin, and is ready to start on a sixty-days' sail at a moment's notice. The name of the prospective Noah is John Hobson, and in the early days he lived in Amity, Me. As eight inches of rain have fallen during the past forty-eight hours his neighbors are treating the old man well.

In Brief and to The Point.

INTER-STATE RULINGS.

Commercial Travelers Must Pay What Others Do.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Several decisions were announced by the Inter-State Commerce Commission yesterday. In the case of the Burton Stock Car company against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and a number of other railroad companies in the West and Northwest, the Commissioners conclude that the case was not presented to the Commission with satisfactory distinctness upon the question of hauling Burton cars westward empty, and that when Burton cars are in use company cars are idle to a corresponding extent. As the object of the present proceedings was not to obtain damages for past occurrences, but to obtain a settled rule for future service, the Commission does not put on record a finding that the additional charges are unreasonable, although strongly impressed with the belief that such may be the case. With reference to the payment of three-quarters of a cent mileage for the use of the Burton cars, the Commission decides that there is no ground upon which such payment can be ordered.

In the case of Luther Larrison and the Michigan Central railroad against the Chicago & Grand Trunk road for unjust discrimination in refusing to sell to the public thousand-mile tickets at the same rate charged to commercial travelers, Commissioner Morrison, who prepared this opinion, in concluding, says: "Persons belonging to the class known as commercial travelers are not privileged to ride over railroads at lower rates than are paid by other persons. Whatever reasonable rates commercial travelers are made to pay other travelers may be made to pay. Hence, the refusal to sell complainant a thousand-mile ticket at $20, the price that the company was selling such tickets to commercial travelers, and in neglecting to publish rates at which defendant was selling mileage tickets, were alike in conflict with Inter-State Commerce law."

In the case of the complaint of the Associated Grocers of St. Louis against the Missouri Pacific railway company for charging $25 for 1,000-mile tickets to commercial travelers, and claiming that the charge should be but $15, the petition is dismissed. The principal case presented by the St. Louis grocers, that of car lot discriminations, is not decided, as New York merchants have applied for a hearing upon the subject.

Mrs. Logan's Injuries Serious.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 26.—A message to Commander Sweetzer, of the department of Illinois G. A. R. reserve, from Dr. Roberts, of Carbondale, Ill., Mrs. Gen. Logan's physician, says: "Mrs. Logan's injuries are very serious. To-day, for the first time since the injury, she was turned upon her right side with soft pads under her injured left arm. Her left shoulder was crushed by the wheel of the buggy running over it. The whole arm to the elbow is blackened from bruises, and the forearm to the wrist is slightly injured. Her head was stepped upon on its top and left side, the horse's shoe tearing the scalp loose in a concentric shape, making a wound three and one-half inches in length to the skull. The skull is uninjured. She has suffered exceeding pain at the shoulder and along the course of the arm. We rejoice to say she is improving in every respect.

Work at Camp Lincoln.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—The Third regiment has now settled down to camp duties. The battalion drill in the forenoon was good, and dress parade was an improvement on the day before. There is no sickness in the camp and the weather is delightful. To-day the State officers and members of the G. A. R. will be entertained. Col. Sweetzer, of Bloomington, Department Commander of the State, will be in attendance. Corporal Jack will give old army calls for the benefit of visiting veterans. Col. Lawler is a post commander and one of the oldest members of the G. A. R., and no doubt a pleasant reception will be given all who attend. Capt. Will, of Company H, was officer of the day, Lieut. Fowler, Company E, was senior officer of guard, and Lieut. Beebe, Company F, junior officer of guard.

Horace Greeley's Only Sister.

Mrs. Esther Greeley Cleveland, the only sister of Horace Greeley of beloved memory, has been spending the winter at the Coleman house, where she has lived for several years. Mrs. Cleveland, writes "M. S." in The Graphic, is eminently a woman whom age cannot wither, nor custom stale her infinite variety." Despite much grief and sorrow and no slight physical burdens, her heart and heart are as bright, as sweet and as sunny as one could desire. There is a nameless, indescribable charm about her that wins and holds young people to her, and those whom the young love, you know, remain always young. Mrs. Cleveland's intimates like to call her "The Queen," but hers is a rule of love only. And she looks every inch a queen—an ideal queen, not the queen we have just bid farewell to, nor the great jubilee queen. She has the most beautiful complexion you ever saw, fine and white and soft as a baby's. Her hair is delicately gray and rolled softly back from a broad, smooth brow below which her dark eyes beam brightly at you. Mrs. Cleveland wears the most enchanting house gowns you can imagine, and the daintiest, most becoming little contrivances of lace on her head. They give an air of softness to the face that is delightful, and you may have remarked that a pretty cap makes a pretty face prettier still. With Mrs. Cleveland lives her daughter Cecilia, a slight, fragile girl, bright, clever and appreciative, devoted to her mother with an affection that is as touching as it is beautiful. She is now sole daughter of the house and heart of her mother; another daughter, a beautiful, gifted girl, went to rest some years ago.—Home Journal.

Railways in China.

At last the Chinese are undertaking the construction of railways. But it does not appear that foreign syndicates are to profit by the changed attitude of the government. In May last there was issued a decree sanctioning the building of railroads north of the Poi-Ho river in the province which contains the great city of Pekin. A company composed of Chinese officials was formed, and native capitalists were urged to take stock. These capitalists however, were unwilling to invest. Thereupon the viceroy of the province issued a proclamation, in which the advantages to be derived from railway communication were set forth, and the rich were advised that by delay they might "lose their opportunity." Investors still declined to support the work, and it is reported that French bankers have loaned the government $4,500,000 to be used in building the road, which is to extend from the mouth of the Poi-Ho to the interior by way of Tien-Tsin. While it is proposed that a road connecting Pekin with the sea shall be built, China's first and only railroad—the line seven miles long which affords an outlet for the coal mines of Kai-ping—is to be extended a distance of twenty-one miles, and work upon the extension was in progress some months ago.—New York Times.

Butter from Sweden.

That the Swedish dairy farmers are going to send butter to Manchester in the confident expectation of deriving a fair profit is a startling piece of intelligence. Some parts of Sweden are a fortnight's journey from England, as freight travels; and it has been conclusively proved that Swedish butter will remain good for a longer period than that. The Scandinavian farmers have an agent at Manchester who will report as to how far the color, flavor, shape and degree of saltness of their butter suits the Lancashire market, and if in any of these particulars it does not hit the taste of the consumers, these enterprising producers will set to work to alter it. These Swedes really deserve to succeed, and if they make good their experiment at Manchester they will do it simply by suiting the needs of their market—a thing which most English producers will not deign to do. So far as manufactures are concerned, our great fault has been in believing that because our goods were English they must necessarily please foreign tastes. But this is by no means the case.—London Paper.

HOW MALAKOFF WAS TAKEN.

The Story of a Dispatch That Brought $12,000.

Diplomatic espionage rendered a great service to the Second empire in 1855 by enabling the French to get into Sebastopol. The credit for the fall of that stronghold was due, it has just transpired, to the late M. de Moustier, who was in the year above mentioned at the head of the French Embassy at Berlin. At that time Col. von Munster was military attache of Prussia at St. Petersburg, and in high favor at court. The wife of the Czar Nicholas was a Princess of Prussia, and was fondly attached to her native land. All the representatives of her brother were treated by her with a kindness verging on familiarity. The councils of war, when the siege of Sebastapol were going on, used to be held in her sitting-room. Col. von Munster was given the minutes of them. No details of the campaign which the military authorities at St. Petersburg could give him were withheld. He sent confidential reports of the information so obtained to Berlin for the King's sole perusal. Frederick William kept them a secret from every one but Gerlach, a kind of seer belonging to the feudal party, who regarded Manteuffel as an apostate because he advised the King to keep on good terms with Napoleon III., and who discovered, when Queen Victoria went on a visit to St. Cloud, that she was the scarlet lady of the Apocalypse. Manteuffel was furiously jealous of the royal favor in which Gerlach stood, and took means to intercept the Munster correspondence so as to read it and have it copied. In one of these letters there was a dispatch from Todleben informing the Czar of the weakness of the Malakoff, which could not hold out against a strong assault. Now, Manteuffel's copying clerk was in the pay of De Moustier, and, when they were thinking at the Tuileries of ordering the siege of Sebastopol to be raised, a copy of Todleben's dispatch was sold to the French Embassy for 60,000 francs. Orders were sent to Pelissier to attack the Malakoff. He, not wanting to be pestered by his incompetent Emperor and the gang about him with military instructions, ordered the telegraphic wires to be cut. Marshal Vaillant was then packed off to the Crimea with the secret paper in his pocket. It was a revelation to Pelissier, and all that remained was to get the English to attack the Redan, while the French were trying to storm the Malakoff. The General won a ducal title, a big grant of money, and a pension, and became such an important personage that the Empress gave to him the hand of her beautiful cousin, who was presented by her Imperial Majesty with a suitable dowry and a trousseau of regal magnificence.

HOW THEY GOT ACQUAINTED.

A Bashful Young Couple Who Were Fond of Flowers and Also of Each Other.

Said a florist the other day to a Boston reporter: "Last spring I used to notice a couple going by here—a fine, manly young fellow and a girl pretty and dainty, with lovely brown hair and dark-blue eyes. They didn't know each other, but when the young man went to business the girl was sure to be somewhere around where she could see him. She lived right around the corner, and she used to come in here and pretend to be examining the flowers as he passed. Then she would look up and watch him as he went down the street. One day as he went by she looked up and said to me, 'Oh, what a funny hat,' and then carelessly, as she began picking among the flowers, 'I wonder who he is.' I came very near laughing, for the previous day the young fellow had been in to ask me who she was, and had sent her some flowers. About a week afterward she came in with a friend, and I heard her telling the friend how somebody had been sending her flowers every morning, and she did what she could to find out who it was.

"Well, the best part of it all came afterward. One morning he came in as usual and the gardener took him back into the conservatory. While he was there the girl entered and stood near the counter looking toward the window. Presently he returned, and as he started for the door briskly he said: 'Well, send those flowers as usual up to 24 —— street.' Neither knew the other was near, and hearing the number of her house mentioned she turned around and they met face to face. Well, I never saw such an embarrassed couple in all my days. She had a big Jacqueminot near her face, and it would have been hard to tell which was redder, the rose or her cheeks. She turned to the flowers and he passed out. They didn't come any more, but not long ago I saw them going together. They both looked in, and when they saw me he laughed and she blushed."

Honey as Medicine.

Last year a French tourist, Mr. Guilmeth by name, paid a visit to Tasmania, and being much interested in its indigenous vegetation, examined the numerous varieties of the eucalyptus which flourish in that island. His investigations brought him into contact with a small black bee, which stores its honey in the E. globulus. He found that this honey emitted a strong odor as of gum leaves. Collecting some, he carried it to Europe for the purpose of having it analyzed, and of ascertaining whether it possessed any special qualities. It was carefully studied by M. Thomas-Caraman, a well known chemical analyst, and Le Temps of February 3 said that he had discovered in the honey some interesting medical virtues. It exercises a moderating influence on the action of the heart; it is antithermic—that is to say, it lowers the temperature: it facilitates the respiration, for it is anti-catarrhal; it is a febrifuge and parasiticide: and it has been found efficacious in overcoming obstinate cases of bronchitis and even of whooping-cough. It is almost unnecessary to add that the various preparations of eucalyptus make an important figure in the French Pharmacopœia, and its therapeutic value is far from being fully ascertained at the present time.

African Jurymen.

South African juries are not always very wise. A girl was charged at the Riverdale Circuit court with administering poison to the family which she served. The first verdict returned was "murder." "Impossible" said the judge; "no one has been killed!" The jury went back, and returned a verdict of "suicide." "But the girl is still alive!" expostulated the judge. On this the jury gave it up, and returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Earned His Money.

"It's $100 in your pocket," whispered the defendant's lawyer to the juror, "if you can bring out a verdict of manslaughter in the second degree."

Such proved to be the verdict, and the lawyer thanked the juror warmly as he paid him the money.

"Yes," said the juror, "it was tough work, but I got there after a while. All the rest went in for acquittal."

The Old Folks at Home

Or elsewhere, need a tonic now and then to sustain them under growing infirmities. No safer or more thorough invigorant for age and the delicate can be found than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a seasonable medicine in those ailments of commonest occurrence—liver complaint, indigestion and bowel disorders; a pure botanic safeguard against malaria, and a reliable means of counteracting rheumatism. To the convalescent it is a valuable aid in the recovery of strength, and to the debilitated, nervous invalid it yields tranquil slumber and renewed appetite—two prime factors in the restoration of vigor. Being of purely botanic origin it is free from those objections urged against mineral remedies difficult or impossible of assimilation by the system, and which impair the tone of the stomach, which the Bitters, on the contrary, strengthens and regulates. It is indorsed and prescribed by the medical fraternity.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, it is no equal. Sold by Prentice & Evenson O. P. O

THE OHIO REPUBLICANS.

GREAT INTEREST IN WEDNESDAY'S CONVENTION.

A Resolution Endorsing Sherman to Be Submitted—Organization of the Next House.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 26.—To the Republican State Convention, which assembles here Wednesday, there are 723 accredited delegates, while the total number of people who will be attracted here by the event is placed at 50,000—something over seven visitors to every delegate. Seven hundred of John Sherman's friends, with two brass bands, will come on a special train from Mansfield, the Senator's home; 500 Republicans are enroute from Cincinnati, while Cleveland, Springfield, Sandusky, Youngstown, and many other cities will send unusually large delegations. There is not the ghost of a sign of opposition to the renomination of Gov. Foraker by acclamation, and as for the rest of the ticket, it will be completed in half an hour unless there is a smashing of slates and a breaking up of combinations. The great feature of the gathering is the proposed endorsement of Senator Sherman's candidacy for the Presidency. This will be the first gun of the Presidential campaign of 1888. Up to this morning there seemed a possibility that the endorsement question would not come up, but the arrival of Editor Cupellar of Mansfield, one of Sherman's chief lieutenants, and chairman of the State Central Committee, put all speculation at rest. He said that the resolution would be submitted at all odds, and that he did not believe there would be any conspicuous opposition. "Sherman," he says, "deserves the confidence of the Republicans of Ohio. Maine has annually endorsed Blaine, and Sherman's friends in that state have made no objection. Indiana will endorse Harrison, Illinois Lincoln, and Iowa Senator Allison, and it would be exceedingly ungrateful not to endorse the man who has been so conspicuous a figure in the Republican party for the last quarter of a century."

In the matter of the composition of the State Central Committee Senator Sherman and Gov. Foraker are at odds. But as a compromise, it has been proposed in Foraker's behalf that Sherman should have the central committee and the Governor be allowed to name the executive committee. This is being held under advisement.

Organization of the Next House.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The Evening Star, referring to a rumor that an attempt would be made to organize the next House on the tariff issue instead of party lines, states that a prominent Pennsylvania Democrat and friend of Mr. Randall said: "The next House will be organized upon a protective basis. The issue will be made there between protectionists and free traders, and the protectionists will organize. They do not intend to let the free traders get control on the plea of party fealty, and the organization will not be decided as usual, in caucus." This threat having been mentioned to a close friend of Mr. Carlisle, and a leader of the tariff-reform wing of the Democratic party he said: "It's all blow. They will not attempt any coalition. Anyhow, it wouldn't be a bad thing for all of them who belong to the Republicans when it comes to voting on the tariff to go over to them, bag and baggage. But they won't do it."

The United Labor Party.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A delegation from the United Labor party, headed by Rev. Dr. Gottheil, called yesterday at police headquarters to ask the Police Commissioners to provide for the appointment of inspectors of election from their party at the next election. Commissioner Voorhees told the visitors that personally he thought the Labor party was entitled to its share of inspectors, as the law provides that any party having polled 50,000 votes or more at the preceding election may be granted inspectors of election. He promised to submit the matter to the Board of Police Commissioners.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Reasons for Their Decrease in Massachusetts.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 26.—The announcement that the reports of the Massachusetts Knights of Labor show that the order has lost largely in membership creates no surprise in this state, where the order has exercised but little influence on the course of industry for many months. When the manufacturers of Rhode Island organized for self-protection about a year ago they resolved that there should be no interference by Knights of Labor with their business, and to this resolve they have strictly adhered. The manufacturers have in every instance refused to arbitrate or to listen to any suggestions as to arbitration by committees of Knights of Labor, and they have given unequivocal evidence of their purpose to adhere to this line of conduct.

Thus, while there has been no lock-out of Knights of Labor as such, membership in the order is not a recommendation to promotion in the mills, and the acceptance of office in a Knight of Labor assembly is considered as standing in the way, not exactly of employment, but of an employer's favor and confidence. This is the actual situation in great industries of this State, and apparently also of Massachusetts, and it is not surprising, therefore, that there is a decrease in membership.

Scheme to Control the Knights.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 26.—A local paper publishes a story to the effect that a gigantic scheme is being planned to control the Knights of Labor throughout the country. It is said to have for its object the control of the order under the present administration, and is in the interest of District Assembly, No. 49, of New York, Master Workman Powderly and General Secretary Litchman. According to a Knight who is not committed to the scheme, it is proposed to have delegates go to the general assembly that will sustain the administration. This will be accomplished by establishing classes consisting of nine members in every city in the country. These classes are to be made up of the most influential Knights available, and will be really branches of the "Forty-niners" Assembly.

Successful Icemen's Strike.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The drivers and helpers employed by the Mutual Benefit Ice company struck sucessfully Monday for an advance of wages to $15 and $12 a week respectively. Heretofore the drivers and helpers were receiving $12 and $10 a week. The men employed by the several ice companies throughout the city intend to strike for a similar advance.

Victim of a Negro's Assaut.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 26.—Shubel Swift, one of the victims of the negro Joe Smith's brutal assault on June 30, has died of his injuries, and Miss Lord has lost the sight of one eye. The fellow was held without bail on Saturday for murder. Owing to fears of lynching the hearing was held with closed doors.

Don't Experiment.

You cannot afford to waste time in experimenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first, only a cold. Do not permit any dealer to impose upon you with some cheap imitation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption coughs and colds, but be sure you get the genuine. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Don't be deceived, but insist upon getting Dr. King's New Discovery, which is guaranteed to give relief in all throat, lung and chest affections. Trial bottles free at Frank Sherer & Co., Drug Store.

The Great American Chorus.

Sneezing, snuffling and coughing! This is the music all over the land just now. "I've got such an awful cold in my head." Cure it with Ely's Cream Balm or it may end in the toughest form of Catarrh. Maybe you have catarrh now. Nothing is more nauseous and dreadful. This remedy masters it as no other ever did. Not a snuff nor a liquid. Pleasant, certain, radical.

Credit is due the German women and physicians for first using Red Clover blossoms as a medicine. Best results are obtained when combined with other medicinal roots and herbs, as in Dr. Jones Red Clover Tonic, which is the best known remedy for all blood diseases, stomach and liver troubles, pimples, costiveness, bad breath, piles, ague and malaria diseases, indigestion, loss of appetite, low spirits, headache and all diseases of the kidneys. Price 50 cents of Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice.

There Is No Pure Wine.

There is always complaint here of a lack of pure wine, and we often see announcements of wine absolutely pure, intended for invalids. The only pure wine, really such, is that which comes from the press. It cannot be kept without fortification; if it were so kept, it would be unpleasing and perilous to swallow. When persons speak of pure wine they mean honest wine, that which is not fortified and manipulated more than is proper for preservation and completeness. "Purity" is a conventional term, not meaning what it signifies, very much like "natural" applied to persons, who, if actually natural, would be unendurable. Rare knowledge of chemistry is necessary in wine making, and such knowledge is brought to bear most successfully on corruptions and imitations. These increase every year, and it seems as if the time would now come when it would be impossible to distinguish between the genuine and the false.

Even now those claiming to be the best judges are often sharps, though they may deceive themselves as much as they deceive others. Most men who have means, and like to live well, have a weakness to be thought connoisseurs of wine. They will sip it, purse up the mouth, roll the eyes, look very wise and pronounce an opinion based wholly on conceit or pretense. Very few, indeed, except professional tasters, can discriminate between wines. The mass of people who claim to be confident of their ability to determine the nicest shades of difference are humbugs, though they can never be brought to confess it. Dealers can assume almost anything for their wines, with slight prospect of detection. They are perfectly conscious of this, and depend for their patronage on the ignorance of the public, totally unacquainted with the manifold mysteries of the trade.—Cor. Globe-Democrat.

You will notice how quickly a thoroughly successful article is imitated, and also that the imitations are without merit, as they are gotten up by unscrupulous parties. Beware of imitations of Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic. The genuine is sold by Prentice & Evenson and promptly cures dyspepsia, costiveness, bad breath, piles, pimples, ague and malaria diseases, poor appetite, low spirits headache, or diseases of the kidneys stomach and liver. Price 50 cents.

"I suppose you will give your children an academic education," said a gentleman to a pompous ignoramus who had been boasting of his own accomplishments.

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply, "of course I will. That's the kind of an education I got, and if it takes every shilling of my fortune, my boys and girls shall be immortalized as their father was."—Youth's Companion.

Skin and Scalp

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies

For cleansing the skin and Scalp of Disfiguring Humors and Rashes, Itchings, Burnings and Inflammations, for curing the first symptoms of Eczema, Psoriasis, Milk Crust, Scaly Head, Scrofula, and other inherited skin and blood diseases, Cuticura the great skin cure and Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Resolvent, the new blood purifier, internally, are infallible.

Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of all sufferers in advertised remedies. They become reduced to a life of misery, rather than torture themselves with doctor's palliatives. To the sufferers it points out the road to sure relief and positive cure. COMMON SENSE TRUSS CO.

BRIEFLETS.

—Captain Newman has been exercising his men at Crystal Springs.

—B. Spence, of the first ward, has been very sick for the week past, but is now better.

—Several young people from this city will attend the party given by Miss Lizzie Tinker at Clinton, this evening.

—The west side fire steamer was out this afternoon wetting down the water pipe trenches in order to facilitate the settling of the earth.

—John O'Niel, an old resident of the county, died in the town of Porter yesterday. He was known to many in this city and his death will be read of with regret.

—Two tennis clubs have been partly organized in the first ward. Match games are promised that will make eastern champions hide their heads. The clubs are made up principally of young people who learned the game at Beloit and Rockford.

—This evening the tin blackbirds of the Angleworm club will suffer. There is to be another club shoot on Bunker Hill and Free. Standard expects to astonish the boys with his new "Winchester corn sheller." A shot gun that holds six cartridges and works quicker than most revolvers is a bad thing to tackle, but this is what the club will have to work against until some one gets away with it by hiring a Gatling.

—When the St. Paul express came in this morning it brought the remains of Mrs. Catharine House. Many who had long been friends of Mrs. House were at the depot to pay their tribute to the dead, while a large number were also present at the funeral services in Oak Hill cemetrey. The services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph Waite. Those that acted as pall bearers were Charles Dutton, W. C. Holmes, N. O. Clark and W. W. Wills.

—In the Milwaukee & St. Paul waiting room this morning were a curious family. The father, was a coal-black negro, and weighed something over two hundred pounds, while the wife was a mournful looking little German girl, slenderly built and with yellow hair and blue eyes. In her arms she carried a baby not more than two months old. The little one was black as ebony, but the other toddler, who stayed with his father part of the time, and part of the time tried to scramble through a convenient window, showed no signs of negro blood except the peculiar "kink" of his hair. It was a strange group, and attracted considerable attention.

—There was a young man in the fourth ward last night who wished he never was born. His best girl's parents look on him with small favor, and all interviews between the young people are therefore "on the sly." That was why the young man walked up the front steps so cautiously, and why he tapped so lightly at the door on this particular evening. The young lady should have been waiting just inside, but it must be that the plan miscarried. Anyway, when the door swung open, papa himself stood there and frowned grimly as he asked, "Well sir, what do you want?" "Wh-wh-wh-why," ejaculated the frightened youth, as he gathered himself for a rush toward the front gate, "goo-goo-good evening, Mr. Brown; b-b-b-beautiful evening, isn't it? I ju-ju-just wanted to borrow your gi-gi-gimlet.' Mr. Brown made some remark that rhymed with "gimlet be slammed" and reached for the fourth-warder with both hands but it was too late. If the young man ever gets in such a fix as that again, however, it will be a long time from to-day.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

—Miss Laura Chapman went to Monona this morning.

—J. A. Denniston and wife are in camp at Monona.

—R. L. Colvin was in Milwaukee today on business.

—Mr. and Mrs. Garret Veeder spent the day at Palmyra.

—Mrs. James Mills joined her friends at Lakeside this noon.

—Misses Gertie Cobb and Nellie Carle joined the Monona campers to-day.

—Mrs. Dr. Treat and Mrs. Chris. Wright are late registries at the Monona Assembly.

—Robert Campbell returned to Rockford this morning, after a short visit with Janesville friends.

—Miss Stella Montague, of Berlin, is visiting in the city and is a guest of Miss Lou Nichols.

—Miss Anna Dilzer, of the first ward, and her cousin, Miss Dora Agenhover, of Syracuse, are in Minneapolis.

—Last evening there was a party at Crystal Springs given in honor of Miss Gertie Hemming's friend, Miss Carrie Elliot, of Rockford, who is visiting in the city.

—Misses Leda and Helen Harvey daughters of Professor Harvey of the State Normal school at Oshkosh, returned to their home to-day after a visit in this city. While here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Stannard.

It's Always The Way.

"Didn't I tell you so"? said a gentleman to an acquaintance whom he chanced to meet on the street; "its always the way." What's always the way"? inquired a mutual friend of the two men who happened along just then. "Why, just this," replied the first speaker; "you see Smith, here, the last time I met him he had one of the worst coughs you ever heard. He complained of a loss of appetite, of night-sweats, of low spirits and other unmistakable premonitory symptoms of consumption. I told him to get a supply of Dr. Price's Golden Medical Discovery at once. He did so, and look at him now! Did you ever see a healthier looking man? The 'Discovery' has snatched thousands from consumptives' graves. I knew it would cure Smith. It's always the way."

COMING RIGHT ALONG.

Wisconsin Tobacco May Have a Bright Future After All.

"If the '86 goes through the sweat all right it will show some of the finest wrappers we have had since '82. What I have seen is as fine, silky, and full of oil as any we could wish." So said a well-known tobacco man, only the other day. His remarks were endorsed by several other dealers and seem likely to prove true. There are also good prospects for new leaf. That which was put in very early will, of course, be practically valueless, but leaf set within two weeks before the Fourth of July is averaging very well. Several fields have already been topped, and many others will be before the end of the week.

According to the assessor's report Rock county, this year will grow over five thousand acres of tobacco. It is probable, however, that three thousand five hundred acres would be much nearer the truth. There was a decided shrinkage on account of dry weather. In Dane county this shrinkage was not so noticeable, and the actual acreage will be not far from six thousand. The tobacco land throughout the state will hardly reach twelve hundred acres. The reduction is partly explained by the fact that nearly forty per cent. of the 86' crop is still unsold.

Markets in the east are no better than they are here, excepting for New York. In this one spot everything is lively. Editor Hammerstein, of the Tobacco Journal, thinks that prices for seed leaf will soon be higher than they have been since 1869. By the way, Editor Hammerstein was sat down upon last week quite severely. When Secretary Maynard came to hear the arguments on the Sumatra question, he made one or two remarks that hurt Mr. Hammerstein and his friends very much. It is hoped that when the decision is made, Mr. Hammerstein and his friends will feel hurt even more than they do now.

BATHS FOR BELOIT.

The Wallace Manufacturing Company Will Move to that City.

Wallis Bros. expect, within a short time, to remove their works to Beloit. Their building on Franklin street is too small, and no other desirable location can be had except by paying high rent. While looking around the other day, however, the firm heard of an opening at Beloit. Through the agency of the Beloit Business Men's association a bargain was soon made, Wallis Brothers becoming owners of the Gray planing mill property with four hundred inches of water and having their cash capital increased three thousand dollars.

The Wallis factory has been of considerable value to this city. It was lost through a lack of organized effort and more are likely to follow. The Lawrence Carriage Top Company has been looking up a new location for some time as the members wish to increase their capital stock but are unable to do so while in Janesville because of too much "conservatism."

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The Janesville Water Company of Racine.

A representative of the Gazette was in the office of the secretary of state at Madison yesterday, and examined the articles of incorporation of the "Janesville Water company, of Racine," in order to enlighten the readers of the Gazette. The incorporators use this language: "For the purpose of constructing, acquiring, and maintaining water works and supplying water to the city of Janesville and vicinity." The same corporation has been in Racine for several years, but it does not own any of the water stock in that city. Practically, it seems to have no useful calling.

Mayor Winans says that Messrs. Turner, Clarke & Rawson are taking the preliminary steps in organizing the "Janesville Water Company" in Boston, but he is not advised of particulars.

MURDERED BY PREJUDICE.

Thousands of men die every day who might be saved. Prejudice has murdered many a man and woman. If it were believed that the sum of disease could be reduced by physic much would be gained. The nightmare of death would not frighten us as it does. In our modern civilization we ought reasonably to expect disease to settle upon us because we do so much to attract it; because we so often and so steadily expose ourselves to it. At the same time we all ought to understand, as a part of our education, that to save ourselves from the effects of such exposure some kind of fortification should be built around our vital forces lest the enemy carry us, as it were, by a sudden onslaught. For many years the unprejudiced have used Brandreth's Pills in this way and they have proved a most effective wall against the approach of disease. Stop the daily murderers—we had almost said suicides—by using these pills. They speak for themselves—as they act. When everything else has failed Brandreth's Pills have saved lives. They are to be had at every drug store.

Of Interest to Campers.

Those going from this city to Geneva Lake have already found Gibbons' 'bus line, from Sharon to Fontana Park, a great convenience. It is under the most competent of management and is too thoroughly appreciated to need praise in these columns. Our people will do well to patronize the old established line.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT.

Regular meeting of the Common Council Last Evening.

The Aldermen Vote Away their Free Passes to the Opera House and Lappin's Hall.

The Miscellaneous and Routine Business Considered.

A regular meeting of the common council was held last evening at the city hall, Mayor Winans in the chair and all the aldermen in their seats except Aldermen Casey, C. O. McLean and Rooney.

Previous to the reading of the journal, Mayor Winans remarked that he had read an item in the Gazette to the effect that all the saloons were not closed on Sunday. If this was a fact he was ignorant of it. He had instructed Marshal Hogan to report to him every saloon keeper who violated the law, and he would see they were prosecuted. If the marshal needed any assistance to enforce the law he would see that he had all that was necessary. If the marshal was not discharging his duty some one else would be appointed that would. If the saloons were kept open six days in the week that was sufficient. They must not violate the law by opening their doors on Sunday.

The journal of the last meeting was read and approved.

Ald. Rooney came in and took his seat.

The clerk read the following:

General fund	$ 73 05
First ward fund	83 46
Second ward fund	6 05
Third ward fund	7 12
Fourth ward fund	5 29
Fifth ward fund	8 63
Total	$183 48

A large number of bills were referred to the finance committee.

Ald. Carpenter, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills against the several funds as follows:

JANESVILLE, July 24th, 1887.

To the Hon. Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville:

GENTS:—Will you allow me to call your attention to a great and increasing pest and nuisance with which our city is being cursed. I mean the doves and sparrows which defile and render impure for culinary purposes our rain water upon which so many rely, which devour our berries and small fruit and are now attacking our early grapes. If your honorable body can devise any means by which we may get rid of such a curse, I for one will be truly grateful. If not, will you grant me permission to deal with them in the most efficacious way my judgment may suggest?

Respectfully yours,
W. C. BUTLER.

Placed on file.

The report was concurred in.

Mayor Winans stated that he had conveyed the city's interest in the real estate belonging to the water works plant, including the artesian well to Messrs. Turner, Clarke & Rawson, they reimbursing the city for the expense of the same. The money so paid will be placed in the general fund.

Ald. Carpenter of the finance committee, reported back the June report of the city treasurer as correct. Placed on file.

Ald. J. B. McLean, of the committee on fire department, stated that the east side engine company, especially the men who slept in the engine house, desired a sliding or descending pole placed in the engine house, to facilitate the men in reaching the engine floor in the night time. The distance from the sleeping room to the stair case was so great that much valuable time was lost in reaching the lower floor. The pole would not be very expensive, considering the time it would save. He moved, therefore, that the fire committee be authorized to procure a pole, if in their judgment they deemed it advisable. Adopted.

Ald. Fathers, of the gas light committee, reported adversely to placing an electric light at the railroad crossing on High street, stating that the gas fund would not warrant the expense, besides it would be placing three electric lights all in a bunch, at a point where there was now very good light compared with some of the dark corners in the city.

Ald. Horn, of the highway, street and bridge committee, asked the opinion of the city attorney, regarding the new grade of Jackson street, between Milwaukee and Pleasant streets.

Attorney Pierce remarked that there was no use talking about changing the grade without a petition from the property owners on the street. If the council changed the grade the city would be responsible for damages

Mayor Winans stated that the street Railway Company had been promising him for the past two weeks to lower the track to the level of the street. He did not know whether they were lying to him or not. He stated also that Mr. J. W. Bates had been engaged for the past month in getting signatures to a petition but there were some who were opposed to raising the grade as they claimed it would damage their property. The supreme court had decided that the city was responsible for any damage that might occur from a street being raised above the established grade. The contract called for the road to be laid on a level with the street in the present condition, and if the council would only let the matter alone he would see that the track was lowered or he would have it torn up. As it was now it was in a very unsafe condition and a serious accident was liable to occur at any time.

J. W. Bates, Esq., was granted permission to say that Superintendent Atwood was ready and had been for the past two weeks to lower the track when the council should so direct. It would cost about sixty dollars to do it. He would lower it however, or he would pay the same amount to the city towards raising the grade of the street. Mr. Atwood was only waiting for an expression of the council one way or the other so as to know how to act.

Mayor Winans remarked that it required no action on the part of the council whatever.

Ald. McLean said that the railway company put the road where they did at the direction of the aldermen, and the aldermen were advised by the city engineer, who claimed it would be to the advantage of the property owners to have the grade of the street raised.

The mayor had no fault to find with the aldermen, but as no action was taken in the matter it was left with the mayor to act.

Ald. Horn reported that the communication from W. H. H. Macloon regarding the planking at the railway crossings had been attended to by the city attorney, who had corresponded with the railway officials, and that the crossings would be repaired.

Ald. McLean, that the street commissioner repair North street, west of Gold street. Adopted.

Ald. Smith, that two gas lamps be placed on Terrace street, between Ravine street and Mineral Point avenue. Referred to gas committee.

Ald. McLean, for the transfer of $58.11 from the old water fund to the general fund. Adopted.

On motion of Ald. Carpenter, the vote of the last meeting defeating the opera house license ordinance was re-considered and the ordinance was passed by a unanimous vote. The ordinance is as follows:

AN ORDINANCE in relation to the licensing of shows and theatrical performances.

The Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. The opera house of Peter Myers and the hall of Thomas Lappin are, and each is exempted from license fees for entertainments of any kind given in either under Number 97 of the City Ordinances, and hereafter until otherwise ordered, neither said Myers or Lappin shall be required to pay any license under said ordinance.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Passed July 25, 1887.

Ald. Judd, authorizing the city engineer to establish the grade of Hickory street between Fourth avenue and Glen street. Adopted.

Ald. Fathers, for the repairing of gutters on South Bluff and Racine streets. Adopted.

Also, for a sidewalk on South Main street. Adopted.

Ald. Judd moved to reconsider the vote passed at a former meeting, instructing the city attorney not to prosecute any suit for the removal of the scales from the corn exchange square.

This motion caused considerable discussion, and it was brought out that Mr. Murdock was willing to remove the scales at any time the council requested their removal, and would sign a paper to that effect. The motion of Alderman Judd was adopted, and the attorney was instructed to prepare a paper for Mr. Murdock to sign, and also to inquire and report what right the city had to the triangular piece of ground, and to what use it could be put.

Ald. McLean stated that some time ago the council passed an ordinance preventing the Salvation Army parading the streets without permission of the marshal. Within the last week he had noticed them drumming on West Milwaukee street and people were obliged to drive their horses blocks out of the way to avoid them. He had no objections to their parading on the side streets. They paraded now with the consent of the city marshal, and he ought to be a little more stringent with them.

On motion the council adjourned.

SHUT THOSE DOORS.

If Proof of Sunday Liquor Selling is Wanted it Can Easily be Had.

The Gazette of last evening says: "Saloon doors, especially back doors, object to being closed on Sunday, and yesterday quite a number of them remained open." Marshal Hogan says that if the Gazette will name the parties who had their back doors open he will prosecute each and all of them. Now let the Gazette come to the front and back up its statement or hereafter hold its peace.—Recorder.

The Gazette is right here, prepared to make good all in that item and more. The item was written by a Gazette reporter who, from personal observation knew what he was writing about. The matter was brought up as much to caution the saloon men as to give the marshal "a pointer," if you allow such an expression.

The Gazette will stand right up shoulder to shoulder with Mayor Winans and Marshal Hogan in enforcing the Sunday law, and we have no doubt the mayor and marshal would be very thankful for a little support from the Recorder.

We believe the mayor is sincere in his efforts to close the saloons on Sunday, and we sincerely hope he will succeed in entirely suppressing every one. This cannot be hoped for with only one policeman,—it is useless to attempt it. The Gazette knows, the Recorder knows, and every city officer knows, that nearly every saloon in the city is open certain portions of each and every Sunday, and that liquor is not only sold to men, but to minors, regardless of the law. Now, then, the ball having been set in motion, let's all join hands and keep it rolling, until the object is accomplished. What say you?

We are not in favor of showing the least partiality in this matter, but are in favor of bringing all under the ban of the ordinance alike—not only technically but literally closing all saloons doors on Sunday. Nearly every city in the state of Wisconsin is just now endeavoring to stop Sunday liquor selling, and it now remains to be seen what class of people and what proportion of that class will aid the officers in this good and lawful work. Mayor Winans expressed the sentiments of the people last evening, when he said that "if the saloons kept open doors six days of the week, they ought to be satisfied, and remain closed on Sunday." We will all join him in enforcing this.

THE BEST YOU CAN.

BY NELLIE A. BOSTWICK.

You will find as you are traveling
Along life's stormy way,
There's lots of time for working,
And little time for play.

You will find that wishing, waiting,
Will never make a man;
If you can't do what you want to,
Then do the best you can.

The best is all that's wanted,
The best is what we prize;
That half done that carelessly,
Far down the ladder lies.

To do work carelessly or heedlessly,
Will never make a man;
If you can't do what you want to,
Then do the best you can.

If you find your forte is farming,
Don't try a higher shelf,
To try to copy others,
Will only hurt yourself

To work anon at this and that,
Will never make a man,
Just settle down to business,
And do the best you can.

You will always find there's many,
To always give advice,
You should in their minds follow it,
No matter what the price,

But the best way of them all is,
To know and work your plan,
If you can't do what you want to,
Then do the best you can.

Shopiere, 1887.

BRODHEAD.

—In the recent election, to determine whether the board should be authorized to give $2,500 for the establishment of a wind engine factory in Brodhead, the affirmative was carried by a large majority. While all manufacturing interests are good for a town, the same amount of money could be spent profitably to the town in many ways, not the least being in driving an artesian well. However, we may attain to that, also, in time.

—Mrs. E. A. Charleton, the associate editor of the Independent, and daughter Winnie, are visiting at Mrs. Charelton's old home in Lockport, New York.

—Miss Jennie Bowen left Monday morning for Madison, to attend the assembly. She goes in company with Mrs. Crossett and Mrs. Dunning, of Janesville.

—Mr. W. R. Skinner, Mrs. W. H Barnes and family, and Mrs F. E. Niles, have returned from their recent visit in Iowa. Mrs. Skinner went on to Minnesota to spend some weeks there before returning to Brodhead.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian Society, will hold a lawn social at Mr. Justus Bowen's this (Tuesday) evening. A choice collection of veiled statuary is to be sold at auction and the beautiful Jewess Rebecca will be in attendance at the old well to refresh the thirsty, not as of yore with water, but with lemonade. Ice cream and cake will be served.

—Several parties were in camp at the park last week among them being the Misses Mack and Misses Spaulding at Camp Putnam, and Misses Bertha Rose, Lillie Kurtz, Anna and Minnie Stone and Nettie Trazee, at People's Park.

—Mr. A. M. Bowen left Friday for a short trip to Duluth on business.

—Mrs. C. Matter has returned from her visit at the home of her son in Duluth.

—Died, at her residence in the village, Thursday morning July 21, 1887, Mrs. Helen Lounsbury, wife of A. E. Lounsbury. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church Friday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. E. H. Harvey and Rev. B. L. Prescott, of Juda.

—Monday night, June 18, at a little before twelve o'clock, a tobacco shed in the south part of town, belonging to Mr. Jacob Bush, was discovered to be in flames, and a few minutes later a barn about a block away, belonging to Mr. L. Hyatt, was also ablaze. The fire alarm was sounded and in a short time the engine started to the rescue but it was too late and nothing could be done. Mr. Bush's shed contained about two tons of tobacco belonging to himself, seventy-five or eighty tons of baled hay of Mr. C. H. Campbell's, and several wagons of Mr. J. Searles'. Nothing was insured. Mr. Hyatt's barn contained only a flock of chickens. These fires were certainly incendiary as have been most of the fires here for the past two or three years, and most strenuous efforts will be made to detect the offender, who if caught, will suffer to the full extent of the law. We hope the efforts will be successful as it is not only unsafe, but a disgrace to the town and the country at large to have the perpetration of such crimes go undetected.

EMERALD GROVE.

—C. E. Beaumont is getting along slowly, and suffers much pain at times. Dr. Mills is doing all for him that can be done, and it is hoped he will recover in time. In this connection, the fact should be mentioned that Mr. Beaumont, in addition to his services in the Mexican war, served with credit and distinction in the late war. He was in twenty-three battles and engagements, and served under Grant, Sherman, and other leading generals. He was a commissioned officer, and came out of the service a major. He received a wound in the wrist which should entitle him to a pension.

—Misses Jessie Jones and Louvida Hedditch started on Monday last for a two weeks' sojourn at Monona Lake.

—Good butter wanted at Hastings, for which will be paid full market rates.

—Miss Clara Wright, of Chicago, is visiting at her old home at her uncle J. W. Dean's.

—Mrs. Lottie Ellis, of Janesville, is at her brother's, Mr. Fred Scott, of Bradford.

—Owing to change in the time of her appointment in Janesville, Miss M. A. Hand has postponed her engagement until Aug. 14th in the evening.

—A union social of the Congregational churches of Emerald Grove and Johnstown will be held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clark on Friday evening Aug. 5th. Supper will be served, also ice cream. Refreshments will be furnished by the ladies. All are invited.

—Mr. Airis, of Janesville is putting up the chimney for the new church. It is a very large one with a ventilation flue and stands outside the church.

FAIRFIELD.

—The harvest is nearly all secured, most of the grain being already in the stack.

—Threshing began in this vicinity on Monday last.

—Mr. Stoker had the misfortune to have his shoulder dislocated a few days since.

—Joseph Gunning, of Chicago, is spending a few days with friends at this place.

—Miss Eva Housten and Mrs. D. Dykeman returned from their eastern trip on Friday last —Mr. and Mrs. Grant Wood rejoice in the advent of an eleven pound son.

—A little daughter of Mrs. Ida Severson was quite sick last week, but is now considered out of danger.

—O. J. Searl & Son have decided to go to California this fall, and will close out their stock of goods at cost and below for the next thirty days.

—The Emerald Grove and Johnstown societies will unite in a harvest social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Clark, on Friday evening, August 5th. Supper and ice cream, 15 cents. All are cordially invited.

—The summer term of school closed on Friday last with a picnic in the grove. A pleasant time is reported.

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING.

Twenty American women have pictures on exhibition at the Paris Salon this season.

Mrs. Ellen Wood, the authoress, left personal estate to the value of £88,000. In her case novel-writing paid.

Mrs. Shaw, an Indiana woman, is making a fortune out of a dust-pan. She thought as she worked, and her bright idea is turning into bright dollars.

Mrs. Rachel Lloyd has been appointed Assistant Professor of Chemistry of the Nebraska State University at a salary of $1,500.

A home for woman teachers of every creed has been opened in Dresden, where they can remain during holidays or while looking out for fresh situations.

Miss Carren Campbell, an American violinist, has been astonishing the Germans with her magnificent playing. She promises to excel Camillo Urso.

A convalescent home for governesses, nurses, and other workers, of which the Princess Imperial of Germany is President, is about to be built in Berlin.

Ex-Empress Eugenie has applied to the city government of Naples for permission to enter the hospital as a nurse and care for the soldiers wounded at Massowah.

Fraulein von Bulow has gone to Zanzibar to establish there a hospital in the interest of a national German Frauenbund, or Samaritan Society of German Women.

Mrs. John G. Lane has sold her estate in Virginia known as "Mary's Heights," to Col. M. B. Rowe for $8,000. It was Gen. Lee's headquarters at the Fredericksburg battle.

A small step has been made by Icelandic women. They have got permission to pass the higher examinations, and to study in the chief classes in the college school at Reykjavik.

The Woman's Medical College of the New York Infirmary has calebrated its nineteenth anniversary. Dr. Emily Blackwell, a successful pioneer, administered the oath to the graduates.

A young New Orleans woman is preparing to go into the house-decorating business, and this fall will offer her services for graining wood-work, for wall and ceiling painting and for decorating fireplaces.

Queen Victoria has, it is stated, chosen a site in the Windsor Great Park for the erection of the equestrian statue of the late Prince Consort, subscribed for by the women of England as a jubilee offering.

Mme. Jane Dieulafoy has been awarded a prize of 2,000f. for her work on her Persian and Susian explorations. This sum Mme. Dieulafoy has given to the fund for relieving the sufferers in the recent catastrophe of the Opera Comique.

Mrs. Kimura Hida, who is one of the promoters of the lately established Female College of Tokio, has been admitted to the medical course of the Japanese Imperial University. This is the first lady that has been admitted to the Imperial University.

All the housework of Wellesley College is done by the students, who devote to it forty-five minutes out of the twenty-four hours. There are 300 girls, and every girl is trained to do one kind of work, and to do it quickly and well. Co-operation saves a vast deal of time and labor.

A Connecticut town boasts of its 10-year-old girl ball player. She is said to catch with perfect ease, grace, and accuracy, even the highest fly being captured with rare judgment. She does not throw overbanded like girls in general, but puts it in from the shoulder in the true style.

Maria Mitchell is one of those women whose influence over other women, especially young women, is unbounded. She lives in the observatory, with the telescope running up through the dome in the middle, space for recitation rooms and for the most charming of domestic menages being found in the two stories of the wings on either hand.

Mrs. Daniels, wife of Capt. Daniels of the Water Lily, has just been licensed as pilot of that steamer. She is 42 years old and is believed to be the only woman pilot in England, though two women have been licensed as captains. Women are so rapidly being admitted to new positions, however, that others may already be serving as pilots.

Miss Lucie Stuart, the only daughter of William A. Stuart, the principal owner of the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, and one of the belles of "the White" for the last four years, was married at the family residence, Elk Garden, Russell County, Va., recently to Mr. Campbell of Wytheville, Va. The bride is a niece of the famous Confederate cavalry chieftain, Gen. "Jeb" Stuart.

An expert canoeist is Mrs. Eliza Putnam Heaton of Brooklyn. Her husband is a member of the editorial staff of the Brooklyn Times, and he spends his vacation with her in canoeing. Her costume last summer when making the trip up the Hudson River to Albany and back was a blue flannel dress, blouse waist, extra high boots, and sailor hat. She says the canoe is not an unsafe boat.

Mlle. Florence Menk-Meyer, a young pianist and composer in Paris, is called "the Liszt of the future." Her brilliant playing attracts great audiences. Although very young she is already favorably known as a composer, having published several successful works for the voice and piano. She is now engaged on an opera, which is to be produced next year at the Royal Opera House in Berlin, and of which she has written the text as well as the music.

The ladies have done well at Cambridge and Dublin this year. At the English university eleven of the superior sex have succeeded in taking mathematical honors, while in Ireland the degree of Bachelors of Arts has been conferred on nine women, of whom four took honors. One lady was capped Master of Arts, and another lady, who obtained the first place in the honors list in modern literature, was awarded a valuable scholarship. Seventy-eight women presented themselves for the matriculation examination, and of those seventy-one passed, twenty-seven obtaining honors.

WEALTH, AND TO SPARE.

Esopus paid for a single dish $400,000.

Tiberius, at his death left $118,125,000, which Caligula spent in less than ten months.

Cleopatra, at an entertainment, gave Antony, dissolved in vinegar, who swallowed it, a pearl worth $40,000.

Crœsus possessed in landed property a fortune equal to $8,000,000, besides a large sum of money, slaves and furniture.

Antony owed $1,500,000 at the ides of March, paid it before the kalends of April and squandered $147,000,000 of the public money.

In Brief and to The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful, Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular hours, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.
